Projects

- Travel management system (wireframe using Figma)

Description: I have successfully conceptualized and developed a user-centric interface for a comprehensive travel management system tailored for B2B use. Leveraging my expertise, I crafted an intuitive design that enhances the efficiency of travel agencies in planning and organizing trips, streamlining communication, and delivering exceptional service to clients. My proficiency in creating responsive and visually appealing designs ensures a seamless user experience across various devices. Through this project, I have demonstrated my ability to combine creativity with practicality to deliver impactful solutions in the realm of digital product design.
